Bars, Restaurants to Take Financial Hit With Time Switch

InsideIndianaBusiness.com Report

3/29/2006 8:12:38 AM

The switch to Daylight Saving Time this Sunday could mean big financial loss Indianapolis bars and restaurants right at the height of the lucrative NCAA Me celebrations.

The bars will be forced to close an hour early since the time change takes place at 2 a.m. spring forward to 3 a.m., the time when bars must close.

Indiana Licensed Beverage Association Executive Director Brad Klopfenstein says the as estimates bars and restaurants in central Indiana will lose about $250,000.
